The truth of Cate's style

Cate Blanchett is known for her fashion-forward style, so it's always a visual treat when the actress makes the movie-promotion rounds. Most recently, she's been out and about for Carol and Truth. USA TODAY's Cindy Clark takes a look at her latest cutting-edge looks.

1 Curled hair and a bit of color in the form of a floral print bring out Blanchett's softer side while allowing her to stay true to her fashionista roots. The actress is gorgeous in a Giorgio Armani gown at a screening of Truth at the Museum of Modern Art Oct. 7 in New York.

2 Proving that a classic black tux never goes out of style: Blanchett in this borrowed-from-the-boys Saint Laurent by Hedi Slimane suit Oct. 8 in New York. A sheer blouse and sharp stilettos keep it sexy and feminine.

3 A plunging neckline, but with a sheer lace overlay that casts designs on her arms and décolleté: The gorgeous Aouadi Paris dress was the perfect choice for the New York Film Festival premiere of Carol Oct. 9 in New York.

4 More proof that Blanchett knows how to have fun with fashion: this Givenchy ensemble she donned for a photocall Oct. 14 in London. Sticking to a black and white palette keeps the look from going overboard, and besides, her smile says it all.

5 Shimmering fabric and a drapery cut make Blanchett look regal in this stunning Esteban Cortazar gown. The white contrast piping keeps all eyes on her fabulous figure, which cut a swath down the red carpet at a screening of Carol for the BFI London Film Festival Oct. 14.

6 That deep V neckline is serious stuff, but playful pockets lend a laid-back feeling to Blanchett's Schiaparelli dress. The actress kept her hair up, yet soft, for the Truth gala screening at the BFI London Film Festival Oct. 17. Plus, we love those Roger Vivier "Dorsay Paillettes" pumps.

7 Embellished details around the shoulders and a mock turtleneck add interest to this white sheath Alexander McQueen gown. And her bright blue award at the BFI London Film Festival Oct. 17 adds the perfect finishing touch.
